The dispatches this morning tell of an abortive attempt to inaugurate a revolution in Spain. The effort was a failure; but it is written upon the wall that Spain will be a republic at no very distant day.

What with Kansas' agricultural and stock exhibition on her western border, and Illinois' exposition of products and industries on her eastern, Missouri is kept in animation. The first named was concluded Saturday at Kansas City after a very successful week (so stated), and the other is now on at St. Louis. Lucky Missouri to be thus sandwiched.

The scenes are rapidly shifting preparatory to the second act of the great drama now on the boards of continental Europe, and the signal for the raising of the curtain is momentarily looked for. The first act is scarcely ended, i. e. the constrained abdication of Prince Alexander of the Bulgarian throne. The second act will be the occupation of the coveted territory by Russia, with a simultaneous movement on the part some one of the rival lesser powers, probably Turkey, of the Trans-Danubian country, or that portion acquired by Russia following the Russo-Turkish war of 1882. Verily the signs in the east are big with stirring events. A stupendous war seems inevitable.

SANTA FE APPOINTMENT.
Assistant General Manager Goldard, of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, today appointed H. B. Keeler at Wichita, and F. C. Gay at Las Vegas, district freight and passenger agent of the road. Keeler's district includes the main line and branches in Kansas west of an including Emporia. Gay's district includes the main line and branches south of and including Raton, N. M.

KANSAS PATENTS.
The following patents were granted for the week ending Sept. 14, 1886, reported expressly for this paper by Jos. H. Hunter, solicitor of American and foreign patents, Washington, D. C.:
H. V. Hinckley, Topeka, switch stand; S. W. Harman, Alleville, wire stretcher; Thomas Snively, Pontiac, listing cultivator; H. L. Jones, Coffeyville, calf weaner; R. T. Stokes, Garnett, combined hopple and tail holder; J. H. Jacobs, Atchison, flying target; A. H. Criley, Fort Scott, wrench; Hamon Morrison, Xenia, check row corn planter.

KANSAS AT CHICAGO.
The Chicago Inter Ocean made the following summary of the remarks of Hon. T. D. Thatcher, of Kansas, in the conference which preceded the meeting of the anti-slavery convention:
"Mr. Thatcher, of Kansas, said the delegation was not to represent the temperance Republicans of Kansas. He knew no others. Kansas had prohibition in its constitution and laws, and the laws were admirably executed. In the capital city there had not been a saloon open in two years. The delegation did not want to lose the Republican party, because it had a mission to perform, a party so endeared by all fond and historic recollections. Kansas was substantially unanimous, and believed it could express in the conference so, and strengthen the party all over."

KANSAS AND ARKANSAS SURVEY.
Special Dispatch to the Globe-Democrat.
LYNN B. ROCK, Ark., Sept. 16.—James Allen Martin, chief engineer of the Kansas and Arkansas Valley extension of the Arkansas Valley route, has returned to make his report to General Manager Wood in this city. He reports that the work on the preliminary survey is progressing not only rapidly, but decidedly satisfactorily. Two parties were placed in the field—one commencing at Van Buren and working to Gibson station, the other starting at Gibson and going to Arkansas City, Kan. The party which commenced at Van Buren finished to Gibson Saturday and found the distance only sixty-two miles instead of seventy-five, as had been estimated. The other party reached Osage Nation, in the Territory, twenty-four miles from Gibson. The chief engineer says the entire survey will be completed in less than a month. It is expected that the work of construction will be commenced very soon after the surveys are finished.

Announced that Gen. Sedgwick has returned from his trip to Mexico and reported in person to his boss, Mr. Bayard, at Washington. His report of the result of his mission will not be made public for some days if, indeed, it is at all.

Written for the EAGLE.
"HAECC OLIM MEMINISSE JUVABIT."
Do you remember, sister mine, how we attended country school long years ago, Where purple autumn veiled the distant hills, And frost had set the forest trees aglow? Do you remember how, in early morn, While yet the dewdrops lingered on the grass, Ere busy reapers toiled amid the corn, Adown the shady lane we used to pass? Our woodland's echoes with our merry song; Our hearts were e'er as happy as could be: We named the tallest trees the road along, And conjured up strange stories in our glee; Do you remember them?
Do you remember where the hazels grew, And where the wild grape's purple clusters hung, And when the autumn wind so gently blew How gracefully the vine leaves danced and swung?
Do you remember where we used to pass In the long lane so dusty and so brown, Harry and "Hookey," who in childish play Were calling "Doodles up!" and "Doodles down?" You've not forgotten all the schoolmates' glee, Who met within the classic shades Of old "Swamp College," while each passing day Brought pleasures new, whose memory never fades; Do you remember these?
Do you remember how at eventide We sought old "Bunker's" quiet, shady side, And there would watch the sunset fade away, Turn gold to crimson, purple and to gray; Then from our favorite seat we'd watch The falling of the oak leaves brown and sour,
And listen to the sad, sweet song of some Lone whip-poor-will, whose notes rang loud and clear; Then while the stars peeped softly one by one From out the dome of heaven's eternal blue, We'd sing that sweet, sweet song that e'er will be A favorite evening song with me and you: Do you remember it?
What need have I to call to mind those days Which were so full of bliss without alloy; It is not strange, when we recall the past, We only bring to mind its scenes of joy: All of its disappointments fade away To petty sorrows all forgotten now, 'Tis like the desert mirage which appears Most beautiful when looked at from afar; 'Tis an unending spring of joy that flows With sparkling waters through our rugged way,
And through all clouds its ceaseless sunshine glows, To cheer our hearts and lighten weary days; Let us remember it.
"GRACE GALLOWAY."

BEAVER CITY—NEUTRAL LANDS.
To the Editor of the Eagle.
On a pleasant eve last January I turned my face westward, reluctantly leaving your busy streets, bound for this place, and knowing as I do that there are many readers of the EAGLE that would be interested in knowing how we have fared in this country, I respectfully ask space in your columns to state a few facts, the result of six month's experience in no man's land.
Arriving, as we did, in advance of the emigration, all we found was the small, dilapidated storehouse and dwellings of Lane and Durley, and 15,000 head of cattle grazing on this valley, and for a month or more it was dull and monotonous; but times have greatly changed since then, and where but two buildings could be counted on March 1st, there are now fully sixty, and a population of about 200 bona fide residents of industrious, orderly people. Although the only community of same size on earth that is absolutely without law, we can say, that so far we have no use for it, as far as punishing crime is concerned. Not a broil nor lawless act has been committed in our town that would have caused action before a justice of the peace. Men's word can be depended upon here in matters of business and it is by far the most satisfactory place to do business that I have ever found as the hills are large and always ready pay.
We have two general supply stores, two lumber yards, two good hotels, two restaurants, one livery stable, one blacksmith shop, one wagon shop, two barber shops, four saloons, a school house and church building combined is to be built in one.

I have traveled nearly all over the continent of North America and can say truthfully and candidly that I never have seen a better farming country. I have harvested eight hundred dollars worth of produce from less than 150 acres. One man Mr. Dow, living four miles east of this town has raised 6,000 pounds of onions on ground broken in February. I have weighed watermelons that weighed 56 pounds. Sod corn that will make 50 bushels to the acre is common. Millet four tons per acre. With such results can we not safely count on greater results from these lands when properly subdued. We have fine corn. We had many good rains that did not reach the Arkansas Valley. When you see it lightning in the southwest you can generally conclude that we are getting rain, magnificent showers that may reach you and may not, the big end of which we resume to ourselves, it is a well known fact that the rain fall of the Beaver valley is greater than any other valleys, either north or south of us for 200 miles.

To all parties starting this way with the intention of visiting the strip, do not stop until you get here and see this country, do not listen to people that are interested in settling up other localities. Come here where wood and water is plenty, and a soil that beats the world. Millions of acres that are vacant. We expect to have the land office early in next year, when the homestead, pre-emption and timber claim acts, will all extend to these lands. The two latter probably only for a short time, as they will doubtless be repealed late in the next session of congress. To those wishing first-class locations we would advise to come this fall and make their selections, and do the amount of work required by our local customs to hold them until the land office is established, which is simple and not expensive, enough to show good faith, for instance, five acres of breaking or its equivalent in fencing or building. We have no use here for busted boomers, but to the man who has a good team and a little ready money, we say come. Such can easily get along and make a home that will soon be worth as much money as they are in any country. WM. WADDLE.

CONWAY SPRINGS.
To the Editor of the Eagle.
Our attention has been called to the fact that in a former communication we credited the erecting of a fine brick building to the Sumner county bank, instead of the Citizens State bank, to which the credit belonged. We did not read the communication after it was printed, so did not notice it. How it happened we do not know; we intended to give honor to whom honor is due. The fact is that the Citizens State bank is putting up a fine two-story brick building. The lower story will be occupied by the bank, and the upper story fixed off for a hall. The building is an ornament to the town and an evidence of its public spirit. It is expected to be ready for occupancy about October 1st. Just now the scarcity of lime is delaying the work.

The citizens of this county are getting interested in railroad projects. Petitions have been in circulation this week to authorize the commissioners to call a special election to vote county bonds, for the Fort Smith, Wellington and Northwestern and the Rock Island. The former to run through Wellington and Conway Springs. The way the propositions are now presented the bonds are liable to be defeated. The people demand something positive in the way of propositions, then they will work with a will for the bonds. The commissioners will meet today (Saturday) to consider the petitions.

Wednesday evening was one long to be remembered by our mayor, B. D. Rowlee, and wife. Some of their friends worked up a surprise on them, the occasion being the fifth anniversary of their marriage. Between 8 and 9 o'clock nearly a hundred headed by grandmother and grandfather, dressed in olden styles and coming from way down east(?), presented themselves and demanded admittance, well laden with the good things. All gave themselves up to the enjoyment of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Rowlee were made the recipients of a nice push rocker as a reminder of the occasion. Time too quickly called for a halt and the friends departed, wishing them many returns of their anniversary day.
Rev. Mr. Browning, of the United Brethren church, has been holding evening services during the week in the Methodist church.

Wheat is being threshed and is finding its way to market.
The Republicans and the Democrats have their candidates in the field for county officers.

A. J. Russell is away on business, to be gone several days.

E. E. Baird and wife returned Friday from their trip to Iowa.

Mr. Lassel has sold his restaurant property to Wichita parties who have taken possession.

H. L. Gray is now manager of the Springs Avenue house.

The effort to establish a lodge of the A. O. U. W. is meeting with good success. More than the required number of names have been signed to the petition to organize a lodge.

Lee Jenkins and John Fowler were in Wichita Friday on business.

At the meeting of the city council on Tuesday evening Chas. Keiger was elected city clerk in place of A. J. Russell resigned.

Parties were in town this week and rented the Hughes building where they will open an organ, piano and music store.

MAIZE.
To the Editor of the Eagle.
You have not heard from our little town for a long time—is it because it is finished? Ah! no, it still grows—business lively.

The parsonage is completed, also a spacious school house, and school in full blast, taught by Miss Marlow, a cultivated lady. If we have the preacher and school teacher other things will be added. With all our getting, get knowledge.

Mrs. Fritz is entertaining a sister and brother who she has not seen for sixteen years. They are receiving a warm reception, as Mr. and Mrs. Fritz's kind hearts are capable of giving to all who enter their happy and comfortable home.

Mrs. Oldfather presented her husband with a babe of the masculine gender on the sixth; also Mrs. Lillie White; mothers and boys doing well. Mrs. Smell has been quite sick, but her many friends are glad to know she is convalescent. Mrs. Smell is an estimable lady and we hope for her speedy recovery.

The children are having a season of plague. We were inclined to think that that horrible nuisance had passed off with the grasshoppers.
Mr. Chaborn Odel took unto himself a wife not long since. "It is not good to be alone—take unto thyself a helpmeet." Much happiness and a long life to the young couple.

We had a refreshing shower on Saturday night; pattered down gently for an hour—it rains upon the unjust as well as the just.

The church which is of the Congregational persuasion will be moved to the town inside of two weeks. Mr. Myers, the pastor, preached an interesting sermon last Sabbath—church full as usual. He is quite popular in the community—seems to be a person that suits our people. He is a finely educated gentleman. I think when his term expires he will be solicited to remain longer.

Our depot is crowded every morning in time for the train. Whether train-bound or our youthful ticket agent attracts them, I cannot decide, but as the majority of them are females, I am inclined to think the latter is the cause. We have only reminded you that Maize is existing.
